INTRODUCTION & SUMMARY

Abacus Transportation Surveys Ltd were instructed by Clare County Council - Burren & Cliffs of Moher UNESCO Global Geopark, to undertake Vehicle Registration Plate Origin/Destination (O&D) surveys at 13 strategic locations in and around the Burren and The Cliffs of Moher Geopark, Co. Clare.

This report contains in-depth data on coach movements, the main access and exit points, their timing and the routes they take in a day. This data provides the type of information useful for traffic management and planning purposes.

The surveys were undertaken on Wednesday 7th June 2017. The survey hours were 08:00 to 22:00hrs in all instances.

The registration plate data collected for the duration of the survey, was in real time Hours:Minutes:Seconds, Vehicles were classified to the following categories:

- 1 = Coaches
- 2 = Hoppa's/Midi Coaches
- 3 = Minibuses
- 4 = Double Deck Buses (although none of these were in the area)

The registration plate surveys were undertaken at the follow locations:

The GeoparkLIFE team conducted a survey of coaches at Poul nabrone Car Park between 8.45 and 16.30 on the same day.

WEATHER CONDITIONS

The weather conditions were mainly dull/overcast with prolonged periods of light rain all day, there were odd clear patches and equally odd periods of heavy rain interspersed with this general weather condition. Cloud cover was low during the afternoon, hanging above The Burren Mountains, which may well have reduced motorised travel/orienteering visitor numbers.

COMPARISON WITH 2014 SURVEY OF COACH TOURISM:

In 2014 the Burren & Cliffs of Moher Geopark commissioned a year long study of Coach Tourism in the Geopark area. This study had three principal objectives:

- 1) To provide an authoritative baseline of bus/coach numbers and their activities in the Geopark area
- 2) To establish environmental and economic impacts of this activity and
- 3) To identify changing trends, if any, in this sector and assess their potential impacts.

The study used a range of empirical and secondary research methods. It included interviews and questionnaires with approximately 40 industry managers and 300+ bus drivers, 35 location counts, 21 site assessments, behaviour observations, film and video capture, examination of policy documents and analysis of data returns from visitor centres and accommodation providers.

The 2014 report set out to create a baseline on the extent and impacts of coach tourism in the Geopark. It considers both economic and environmental impacts, is quite detailed and can be downloaded at www.burrengeopark.ie/community-business/coach-tourism/

In the 2014 report, the author Joe Saunders; made the following comment:

'Total visitor numbers across the country are rising and bus tourism is rising as part of it. The Wild Atlantic Way has proven to be a strong brand and the industry is making strong use of it. We are likely to see a further rise in bus tourism focused on this route.'

Saunders identified the rapid growth of licensed day trips to the Cliffs of Moher Visitor Experience combined with a number of other stops. The increase in this particular service is driven by the completion of motor way networks, shorter driving time, the increase in tourist offices in Dublin City centre selling tickets directly to the public and a strong internet presence/online visibility.

He continues: 'The inevitability of coach traffic increases cannot be separated from the inevitability infrastructure failure and the inevitable consequences for quality of tourist experience and global brand reputation. There are also increased risks associated with safety and land access issues also as well as possible risks at new locations as the industry seeks new sites in search of the 'authentic' experience far from the 'madding crowd.' Coach tourism brings impacts of many types and these are set to increase. If such increases are to be encouraged, policy and infrastructure needs to be synchronised for them. As capacity is under pressure at various sites, a do-nothing scenario is no longer justified.'

It is interesting to compare the numbers of coaches in 2014 with those on the 7th June 2017:

	Cliffs of Moher Visitor Experience	Geopark (generally)
2014 (average day)	60	72
2014 (peak season day)	94	115
2014 (busiest day)	129	145
2017 (7 th June)	148	193

If we measure the 'peak season day' of 2014 against the 7th of June 2017, we have a 63% increase at the Cliffs of Moher Visitor Experience and a 59% in the Geopark generally.

This one day survey is proof that the prediction of an increase in coach tourism has materialised. The data embedded in the survey, used in conjunction with the 2014 baseline survey, will encourage and assist the appropriate authorities in developing a sustainable and integrated transport policy and infrastructural strategy for the Burren & Cliffs of Moher Geopark region.

Both reports were funded under the GeoparkLIFE EU LIFE funding programme (www.burrengeopark.ie/geopark-life/)
